Blossoms (20" diameter rings)

Each 20" ring requires ½ yd (or 2 fat quarters) of fabric.
Background requires 2yds. Example is 40"w x 70"l. Make it larger if you wish!

- For each ring, cut (3) 9½" x 18" strips of Dresden fabric, then cut (12) wedges for each ring as shown.
- Fold wedges lengthwise right sides together and stitch across the wide ends with ¼" seam allowance and 1.5mm stitch length. Leave thread tails of at least ¼" at the fold.
- Finger press seam open and flatten the "little hat" or triangle at the point. Turn point right side out and gently use pointed tool to create a sharp point. Press.
- Repeat for narrow ends and remaining wedges.
- Sew wedges side-by-side back-stitching at beginning and end of each seam. Press seam allowances to one side. Twelve wedges are needed for each ring.
- Layer quilt top/batting/backing and quilt the quilt.
- Place Dresden rings on the quilted quilt anywhere you wish and stitch in the ditches through Dresdens and the quilted quilt. After stitching a Dresden ditch, fold back a point, then stitch on the quilt over to the next ditch, stitch that ditch and repeat. Only one start and stop is needed for each ring!
- Bind and label your quilt.

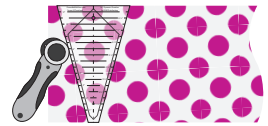

Innovative projects and fantastic tips are available in Susan K Cleveland's Dynamic Dresdens™ book and on PiecesBeWithYou.com . You'll learn to:

- Turn points with the patented Prairie Pointer tool
- Stitch wedges to a fabric foundation to create flat, more accurate units
- Eliminate background fabric from shadowing through Dresden fabrics
- Construct pieced wedges with immaculate intersections
- Add piping to pieced wedges
- Interlock Dresden rings for a 3-D effect
- Integrate partial units into background piecing
- Build waves and loopie-loops with double-pointed wedges
- Design your own Dresden in the size you choose
- Create a flat, square quilt with beautiful binding
- Finish with the "Dresdens over the edge" technique
